

Shakespeare IT UP!

Meet the Instructor

Drew Kenyon

Drew Kenyon has been involved in Upstate theatre, both on and off stage, for about a decade. As a Grayson, GA native, he found his passion for the stage as a high schooler. He has also cultivated a passion for directing, theatre history, and Shakespearean studies, but dabbles in every corner of the theatre arts. He graduated from Anderson University's South Carolina School of the Arts with a BA in Theatre, as well as learning and studying under prominent Upstate directors such as David Larson, Robert- Homer- Drummond, Noah Taylor, Christopher Rose, Ryan Hewitt, Drew Whitley, and Kristofer Parker. He works as the director and instructor of lower and secondary theatre at High Point Academy in Spartanburg, SC. He is also the Program Operations Manager at Market Theatre in Anderson, SC.
